ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Special Tribune Service.]
Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—[Special Tribune Service.]—The Republican nomination for President in Mr. Coolidge will be accepted by a renomination. According to one version, the secretary of commerce personally imparted the nomination to the President following the Pennsylvania delegation that Mr. Coolidge may be a candidate after that. The President vouchsafed, in answer, any taking of his intentions is not known.

How to Reassure Hoover.
Hooverites, who were disappointed by the qualification of Hoover's endorsement of Hoover, are now convinced that the state's Republican vote is overwhelmingly in favor of Hoover and will force Melrose to retire before he can be elected.

How Hoover Feels.
Mr. Hoover said it plain that he never felt the contest only because he believed that Mr. Coolidge had removed himself from consideration for renomination.

Hoover's view now view Coolidge.
The Hooverites, who now view Coolidge as the only obstacle to the nomination of Hoover on the first ballot, are beginning to say that the least they can do is to justify the nomination in his renomination is to get out of the way before the roll is called at the convention for the first time. If he does so in some unqualified manner, they have no doubt that the nomination of Hoover will be secured on the first ballot.

LINDY DIRECTS AERIAL TRAVEL LINE'S EXPERTS

Chicago to Lead in New Plans.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has accepted the position of chairman of the technical committee of the Transcontinental Air Transport, the $50,000,000 concern which is laying plans to establish a 48 hour air and rail passenger service between New York and Los Angeles.

With this announcement came word from Col. Paul Henderson, a director of the Transcontinental, that enlarged plans, to be discussed at a New York conference tomorrow, ultimately will assure for Chicago the distinction of "holding her natural place" as the air hub of the nation.

Confirming Frequent Rumors.
Little surprise was expressed at the Lindbergh announcement. For more than a week rumors have been current that Col. Lindbergh, whose plans for the future have been the subject of lively conjecture since his flight to Paris a year ago, probably would enter the service of the Transcontinental.

Lindbergh's affiliation with the company begins immediately, it was stated by C. M. Keys, the president. The colonel's duties, including supervision of equipment, fields, general service, flying routes, and safety appliances, virtually places him in charge of the company's operations.

Col. Henderson, who is general manager of the National Air Transport, Inc., in addition to the director of the Transcontinental concern, was emphatic in refusing an impression that Chicago is to have a second rate position in the general air development of the country.

Chicago's Natural Advantages.
"Nothing will ever be able to take from Chicago her natural position as a foremost air city of the world," he said. "It happens that the first transcontinental rail and air route does not include Chicago, swinging from New York south through Columbus, St. Louis and Kansas City to Los Angeles, as announced recently."

"But that means nothing. In giving out those plans, the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., only announced one of three comprehensive projects it has in view to traverse the country from east to west by train and plane. The other two plans, yet to be completed, will show Chicago very much in evidence. In fact, Chicago, such is her position geographically and industrially, must of necessity be brought into any American air project of importance."

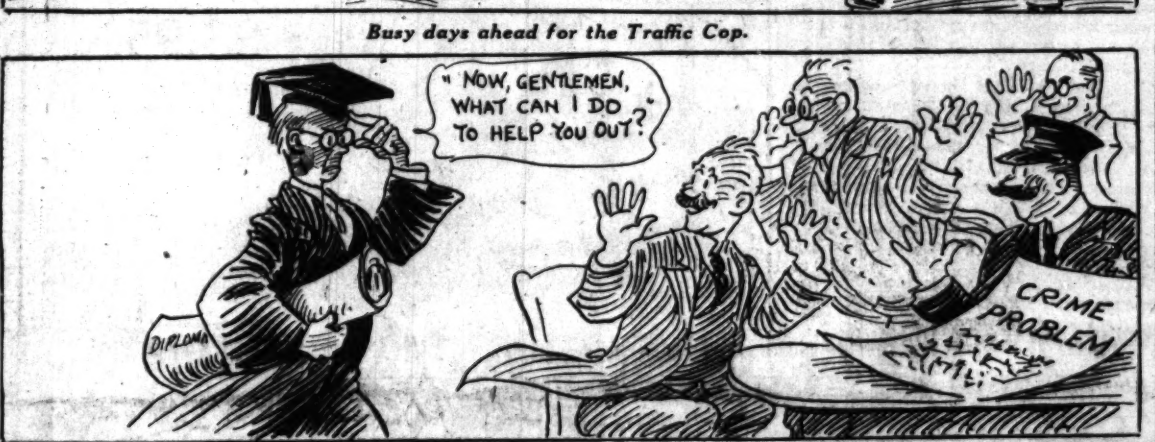

Hints at Further Plans.
Originally, Col. Henderson said, it had not been intended to make an announcement of his company's plan No. 2 for three months. But unexpected speeding of schedules, he said, had resulted in the meeting tomorrow of the Transcontinental's directors at the Engineers' club in New York. After that details of the new project perhaps would be revealed.

Col. Henderson refused to say more, but it is known that a combination rail-air line between New York and Chicago as San Francisco or Seattle, with Chicago as the principal stopover point, long has been under discussion by various commercial air line chiefs.

Consider Air Field Today.
Chicago's proposed lake front landing field, designed to be the biggest and finest airport in the world, appeared a step nearer yesterday with announcement of a conference for Monday in the office of Daniel Schuyler, representing the Illinois Central railroad. William Rothman, representing the South Park board, and Assistant Corporation Counsel John G. Drennan and Roy Loesch will attend.

This meeting may pave the way, it is believed, for the drawing of agreements making the airport possible. Col. E. H. Schults, resident government engineer, must approve the plans. After that public hearings will be held.

WIFE, A MODEL, TELLS OF PARTY WITH BACHELOR

How a pretty cloak model, whose husband was out of the city, was taken to the exclusive annual spring ball at the home of Washington, Porter Jr. at 4043 Lake Park avenue was told on the witness stand yesterday before Superior Judge Jacob Hopkins.

The story was related by the model herself, Mrs. Lillian Kennedy, a blonde, 23 years old, residing at 5126 Waveland avenue. She is suing her host for the evening, Charles F. Henry, wealthy bachelor, 301 East Delaware, who was a building at 201 East Delaware place and the Highland hotel in Rogers Park.

She is asking $50,000 for injuries she received when his automobile crashed into a concrete post at 2 a. m. on Jan. 16, 1926, at South Park way and East 24th street.

Mrs. Kennedy said she was introduced to Mr. Henry the night before the party. They drove to the home of Dr. Edward V. Schulte, wealthy physician, of 999 Lake Shore drive, where the three dined Spanish cuisine, she testified.

At Mr. Henry's request, according to Mrs. Kennedy, she took off her wedding ring and he introduced her as "Miss Kennedy." Returning from the party, she related, Mr. Henry was speeding in the drawing of a machine. Her skull was fractured. Dr. Schulte, who was also in the smashup, is expected to be a witness when the trial is resumed today.

Police Quell Texas G.O.P.; 2 Conventions

Dallas, Tex., May 22.—(P)—Two separate Republican delegations will go from Texas to the national convention at Kansas City, one led by C. C. Littleton of Fort Worth and Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, Texas; the other under the leadership of R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman.

The Littleton-Wurzbach faction, favoring an unfractured delegation, elected four delegates-at-large and insisted that the 22 delegates chosen at recent district conventions were regulars and should be seated by the national committee.

The Creager faction elected 22 opposition delegates and four delegates-at-large, instructing them to vote for Hoover for presidential candidate and urged Creager as Hoover's running mate.

Rump Convention Held.
Two conventions resulted from the split, the Littleton-Wurzbach forces holding a "rump" convention in Odd Fellows hall, with the Creager followers in possession of city hall auditorium, the regularly appointed meeting place.

Before the split one of the stormiest political meetings ever held in Texas took place. J. E. Elgin and Littleton, both members of the state executive committee, were ejected from the hall by police after a glass door had been smashed. Littleton was jailed on a charge of defacing public property, but was released on bonds.

At Wins Skirmish.
Beaumont, Tex., May 22.—(P)—The Democratic state convention recessed late tonight until tomorrow without settling a dispute over selection of the Texas delegation to the national convention between Gov. Dan Moody's "harmony" forces and supporters of Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York. The two factions had united earlier in the day and routed the ultra dry faction led by State Senator Tom Love.

Smith forces received an indirect test when the convention voted, 467 to 284, to seat a pro-Smith delegation from Wichita county headed by Charles I. Francis, president of the Texas Democratic delegation. Wichita county sent two delegations to the convention and the issue, when boiled down, was one of Smith-anti-Smith.

Bootleggers Blamed for Dynamiting

Kenosha, Wis., May 22.—[Special.]—A bomb of terrific power tonight shattered one side of the home of District Attorney Lewis W. Powell, Kenosha county prosecutor, who had recently waged a stern campaign against liquor law violators. The explosion endangered the lives of the prosecutor and his four children.

A hole six feet square was torn in the side wall, every window in the building was shattered, and Mr. Powell was hurled from his bed on the first floor. So great was the force exerted by the explosive that all the dishes in the house were broken. Windows in adjoining houses were shattered.

Four of the five members of the family who were in the residence were asleep at the time, shortly after 10 p. m. Mrs. Powell was attending a lodge meeting. In bed with Mr. Powell was his son, Robert, 7. In an upstairs room Katherine, a 13 year old daughter, was studying, while Lewis, 13, and Ruth, 4, were asleep in another room on the second floor.

All were on the west side of the house, which faces north of 63d street. The bomb was placed on the east side. Two neighbors of the Powell family, Fred Warren and Lester Pearce, saw the automobile in which the bombers escaped. Warren, who lives at 2004 63d street—the Powell place is at 2019—said that two men leaped from the car, ran into the shadows, and a few seconds later returned and drove away. It was less than a minute later when the bomb exploded. Pearce's story agreed with that of Warren.

Crusader Against Bootleggers.
District Attorney Powell had aroused the enmity of numerous bootleggers during the last year. Since Jan. 1 he had closed thirty drinking resorts by injunction. Last summer, it was recalled, he personally laid raids on bootlegging places in Somers township.

As a result one of the constables who accompanied him had been bombed and another had received threats of a bomb. Mr. Powell himself had received four threats of death through the mail, all signed "Bootleggers."

Another theory was that strikers at the Allen-A. hosier mills might have been behind the attack. One hundred and eighty-four of them have been arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and picketing in the last fifteen weeks. Six have come to trial and all have been acquitted. Mr. Powell prosecuted them.

Mystery Marks Shooting of Two With Shotguns
Two men were found shot and seriously wounded early this morning at Throop street and Jackson boulevard, and both men deny there was any connection between the shootings. Both men are suffering with wounds from shotgun slugs in the face, arms, and shoulders.

One of the men gave his name as Salvatore Pisana, 22, 2172 DeKalb street. He was found lying in the street by Policemen Richard Maloney and William Penny. At the Jefferson Park hospital he said he was escorting a girl home, when an automobile containing several men drove up. One man leaped from the machine and shot him, and the girl who was with him fled.

The other victim said he is Leo Rosenthal, 24, 2700 West 16th street. He was taken to Mother Cabrini hospital by a man who said he picked him up at Throop street and Jackson boulevard. While an attendant went for help the man laid Rosenthal on the floor and left. Rosenthal refused to tell the police how he had been wounded but declared he did not know Pisana.

J. P. Morgan on Jury for a Day and Earns $4
New York, May 22.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan sat on the Nassau county grand jury at Mineola today, thus proving his word as good as a Morgan bond. Early this month he promised District Attorney Edwards he would appear.

In addition to a couple of speakeasy cases, the jury considered charges including automobile larceny, abduction, and abandonment.
Mr. Morgan will be paid $4 for his day's services, which lasted from about 10 o'clock this morning until shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon, when he left before the grand jury appointment, pleading a luncheon appointment.

PROSECUTION OF ELECTION FRAUD BEGINS AT ONCE

Pick Five Lawyers to Aid Probe.

Spurred on yesterday by the action of the county board in providing a fund of $150,000 for the investigation of political crimes and election frauds, the prosecution staff will immediately proceed with the preparation of evidence for the special grand jury. It was announced last night by Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom.

By June 4, when the jury is impaneled by Chief Justice William V. Broderick, many witnesses to fraud, murders, intimidations and general terrorism will be ready to parade before the inquisitors, Mr. Carlstrom said.

Confers with Loesch.
His remarks followed a conference in the office of Attorney Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago crime commission, and chief prosecutor appointed by the attorney general to supervise the inquiry. Attending the conference were Mr. Loesch, Mr. Carlstrom and Carl R. Latham, president of the Chicago Bar association, who initiated the inquiry.

Mr. Loesch, who for months had planned to leave yesterday for Tulsa, Okla., to attend the conference of the Presbyterian church, induced an alternate delegate to serve for him, and he announced last night that he would stay in Chicago to complete the preliminary work of the investigation.

With the attorney general and Mr. Latham, Mr. Loesch tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock will be present in the county building office of the jury commissioners, when 1,000 cards, bearing the names of Cook county citizens, will be thrown into a revolving barrel. Then a blindfolded clerk will draw 100 cards, and from these Chief Justice Broderick is to select the 23 members of the special grand jury.

Nine Vote Appropriation.
All of the nine county commissioners attending the board meeting approved the $150,000 appropriation sought by Attorney General Carlstrom. After the unanimous vote President Anton J. Cermak declared the appropriation passed. When it was called to his attention that under the constitution 15 of the 15 commissioners must approve an emergency appropriation voted after the annual budget, he passed. Mr. Cermak said there was no doubt about the other members giving their approval.

The six commissioners who failed to attend the meeting are John W. Gibbon, John J. Jaramowski, Frank Kris, and Andrew Metzger, who are rated as politically affiliated with State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, and two Democrats, Maurice Kavanagh and Emmett Whelan. When three of these sign the resolution making the appropriation it will automatically become final and binding, it was explained by Henry A. Berger, counsel for the county board.

Newby Offers Resolution.
The nine commissioners voting for the resolution, which was offered by Commissioner Harry A. Newby, chairman of the finance committee, are Mr. Newby, Francis Boutell, William Buess, J. Penn Carroll, Louis Nettleshorst, Charles S. Peterson, Oscar Schmidt, Frank J. Wilson, and President Cermak.

The resolution reads in part as follows: "Upon the petition of the Chicago Bar association, the chief justice of the Criminal court has directed that a special grand jury be impaneled for the purpose of investigation into election frauds, murders and terrorism in Cook county, and as an emergency exists requiring the appropriation of certain moneys for the purpose of conducting this investigation, the board of Cook county commissioners hereby appropriates the sum of $150,000 for the purpose of meeting expenses into the investigation of said election frauds, murders and terrorism."

Consider Others Claims.
After the adoption of the resolution, Commissioner Peterson moved that $46,000 be refunded to the Union League club for its advances to officials who investigated the murder of Assistant State's Attorney William H. McSwain. Earlier, in the finance committee meeting, Commissioner Carroll demanded that Charles Center Case, special prosecutor in the County court, be granted $15,000 for his services. Both these payments have been

COOLIDGE FIGHTS PUBLICITY FOR INCOME TAXES

Hopes to Knock It Out in Conference.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 23.—(Special.)—President Coolidge let it be known today that he favors elimination of the senate provision for complete publicity of tax returns. The administration influence, it was indicated, will be exerted to obtain action by the house and senate conferences striking this section from the tax bill. The President, it was stated, holds the same position he expressed in 1925 when he advocated repeal of the provision of the 1921 act which authorized publication of amounts paid by taxpayers. Publicity on matters of this character, the President believes, is not only an unwarranted intrusion into the private affairs of taxpayers, but tends to encourage concealment of income with a resulting decrease in revenue to the government.

The house conferees met today to discuss the changes made in the bill by the senate. The house members are Representatives Hawley (Rep., Ore.), Treadway (Rep., Mass.), Bachrach (Rep., N. J.), Garner (Dem., Tex.) and Collier (Dem., Miss.).

The senate conferees are Senators Smoot (Rep., Utah), McLean (Rep., Conn.), Reed (Rep., Pa.), Gerry (Dem., R. I.), and Harrison (Dem., Miss.).

The two groups will hold their first meeting either tomorrow or Thursday. It was the opinion of some of the conferees that it would take several days to reach an agreement and that it would not be possible to conclude in time to permit adjournment of congress on Saturday.

Incomes Below $15,000. It is expected that the publicity of tax returns provision will be eliminated in conference. The senate conferees also will insist upon the elimination of the graduated tax for corporations with incomes below $15,000, which is in the house bill. Democrats in the house will seek to retain this provision, but the three Republican house conferees are known to be opposed to it.

Other matters which are in dispute include the amount of the reduction of the flat corporation tax, which was cut from 13½ per cent to 11½ per cent in the house bill and to 12½ per cent in the senate bill, the house repeal of the tax on produce exchange transactions, the house reduction in the tax on capital stock transfers, the senate reduction in middle surtaxes on individual incomes, the senate increase in the maximum amount of income to which the earned income deduction can be applied, and the senate's greater increase in admission taxes exemption.

Representatives Hawley and Garner,

following the session of the house conferees, said they believed that the actual reduction in taxes provided by the senate bill is considerably more than $95 million dollars as estimated. Administration changes in the senate bill, they said, account for the difference.

Mr. Hawley thought that the reduction would be found to be from twenty to forty million dollars more than estimated, while Mr. Garner thought it might run to 200 million dollars, or within thirty million dollars of the total of the house bill.

Dies of Heart Attack as He Bathes in Lake

An unidentified man died yesterday of a heart attack as he was bathing in the lake at the foot of Division street. Another bather, Norman Svoboda, 11 East Division street, saw the man stagger as he was walking in water just above his knees. Svoboda ran to his aid and carried him to the shore. When Hudson avenue police arrived they took the victim to Hennrich hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

GETS HER CASH, WEDS ANOTHER; HE'S CONVICTED

Mrs. Margaret Van Vliet, 46 West 11th street, a widow with three children, yesterday told a jury in Judge William V. Brothers' court that Leroy R. Kiger, 39 years old, had taken the last of her money to marry another woman. The jury found Kiger guilty of operating a confidence game.

Mrs. Van Vliet testified that she met Kiger, who already had had three wives, in March, 1927. They became engaged to be married and in less than three months he obtained from her $3,000 on different hard luck stories, she said.

Late in June of 1927 he sent her to Lake Kegonsa, near Stoughton, Wis., to await his arrival and the marriage ceremony, she told the jury. Soon she received a request for $75 which she telegraphed to him and within five days she received an invitation to attend his wedding to Margaret Ernest, Mrs. Van Vliet asserted. She expressed satisfaction when Kiger was led away to a cell. His latest wife was in tears.

POSTAL PAY

Vote 319-42; I
Due for Ax T

Washington, D. C., May 23.—(Special.)—President Coolidge today vetoed the Tyson-Fitzgerald emergency officers bill, as they proposed to give emergency commissioned officers both bills to the war holding a right to a conference re the Tyson-Fitzgerald bill. The Tyson-Fitzgerald bill provided for the emergency army officers 50 per cent disability would war service with 15 per cent of pay they discharged from active service.

The proposal, actively the American Legion and service organizations would have cost $2,394,400 now paid as compensation for the earlier in the day Re Democrats in the house side the President's veto increasing pay and a certain postal employees were passed by vote 48 and 319 to 45. Only veto was needed. Approval of the measure President's veto marked that the executive veto seldom since the adoption bonus in 1924. While the house chalked up President Coolidge, not believe it will be successful attempt to pass the farm relief bill.

HOUSE OVERRIDES
COOLIDGE VETO OF
POSTAL PAYRAISE319-42; Farm Bill
Due for Ax Today.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—President Coolidge tonight vetoed the Tyson-Fitzgerald emergency postal pay bill, as well as a measure providing for the retirement of emergency army officers who incurred disability during their military service with pay equal to that of pay they received when they were in active service.

The bill, actively supported by the American Legion and other organizations, would have benefited 1,331 emergency army officers and would have cost $2,244,285 more than the $1,919,998 now paid these officers in compensation for their disabilities.

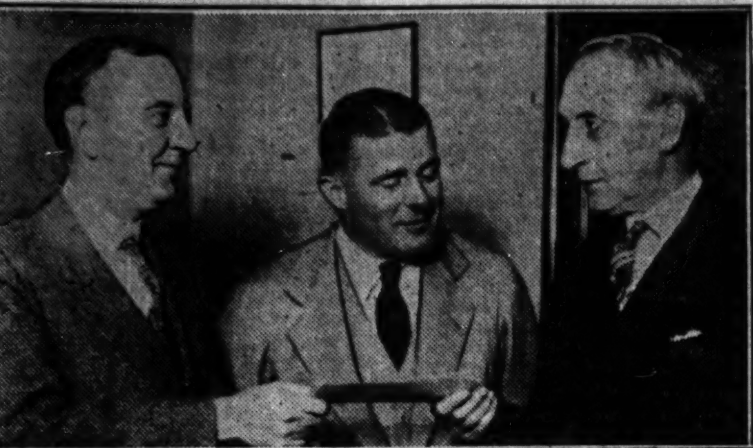

In the day Republicans and Democrats in the house united to override the President's veto of two bills increasing pay and allowances for postal employees. The measure was passed by votes of 219 to 193 and 219 to 193. Only a two-thirds majority was needed.

Approval of the measures over the President's veto marked the first time since the adoption of the soldier's bill in 1924. While the action of the house shrank up a defeat for President Coolidge, house leaders do not believe it will be followed by a similar farm relief bill over executive disapproval.

Will Reach House Today.

RAISE $2,625 FOR WORLD'S FAIR

dent's veto of the farm bill would go to the house today, but it was not completed in time. A message explaining the President's disapproval of the measure probably will reach the house tomorrow.

One of the bills vetoed provided an allowance for rent, fuel, light, and equipment for fourth class postmasters, up to 15 per cent of their quarterly salaries. The other added a 10 per cent increase to the pay checks of postal employees on night duty.

Thirty-nine Republicans and three Democrats upheld the President's veto of the bill increasing allowances and forty-two Republicans and four Democrats voted with the President on the increased pay bill.

"You sit still," said Catalone to his friend, "while I crank her." He cranked. The motor moved. Catalone left the gears in mesh. The car leaped forward and with the startled Motto in the seat plunged into the lake, where it sank in twenty-five feet of water. Motto swam out and coast guards recovered the automobile.

BANKER GIVES UP JOBS ON WHICH WIFE BASES SUITFreeman's Resignation Is Announced in Court.

William C. Freeman yesterday lost his positions as vice president of the National Bank of the Republic and executive vice president of the National Republic company. It was this work, according to his wife of 22 years, that took so much of his time that he neglected his family, causing an estrangement. And it was because of her complaint, made in a separate maintenance suit, that the board of directors obtained his resignation, it was said.

The banker's resignation was announced by his attorney, Michael F. Ryan, before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath in a hearing on a motion for temporary alimony brought by Mrs. Anne Katherine Freeman, now residing at the Evanston hotel.

Attorney Accuses Wife. "She always spent beyond his means and now she's ruined him with the publicity attending her suit," said Attorney Ryan in behalf of his client, who was on business in New York and unable to attend the hearing.

"She helped him for 22 years and since he has found success he feels too important to be her husband," Attorney Lloyd A. Faxon replied. "They were happy while scrimping on his former small salary, but now that his income has grown to $30,000 a year he wants to throw her aside."

With Bank for 21 Years. Mr. Freeman started working for the National Bank of the Republic in 1901 as a messenger boy. He was gradually promoted until 1923, when he was made a vice president. He was married in 1906 and has two children, June and William, 20 and 12 years old.

Judge Sabath ordered the banker to pay $250 to his wife immediately and continued the hearing on the temporary alimony motion until June 2.

BOULDER DAM RAID ASSAILED IN BOTH HOUSES

Called Power and Land Investment Plot.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—Boulder dam legislation was assailed in both houses of congress today.

Representative Leatherwood (Rep., Utah) in a speech in the house denounced the huge 125 million dollar project as "unnecessary, unneeded and dangerous."

Mr. Leatherwood asserted that the issue is "whether a political gang in southern California, in alliance with William Randolph Hearst, can lobby, propagate and bluff a rotten measure through this congress because we haven't the courage, the patriotism, the loyalty to our oaths to stand up and be counted against them."

Considered in Senate.

In the senate Senator Hayden (Dem., Ariz.) presented the objections of his state to the proposal.

The Boulder dam bill became the unfinished business before the senate with the tax bill out of the way. Senator Johnson (Rep., Cal.), joint author with Representative Swing (Rep., Cal.) of the Boulder dam measure, opened the debate with a reply to recent criticisms by Senator Smoot (Rep., Utah). Senator Hayden followed and occupied the remainder of the afternoon.

The bill will be before the senate continuously until Senator Johnson either breaks down the filibuster against it or admits his defeat and allows congress to adjourn without acting upon the measure.

Representative Leatherwood, in his speech in the house, declared that he was opposed to the Boulder dam bill "because it is dishonest in its pretensions, being an attempt to thrust the federal government into the greatest hydro-electric power project in the world under the guise of a humanitarian measure for flood control."

"I have opposed it because it is entirely unneeded in its economic aspects and will mean the loss to the federal taxpayer of every dollar expended upon it," continued Mr. Leatherwood. "I have opposed it because it means the surrender to federal bureaucracy of control over the most vital economic resource to the states in the Colorado river basin."

"Abundant Engineering Plan."
"I have opposed it because it is based upon an engineering scheme so absurd, so dangerous, so badly conceived that it can only be called preposterous."

"I have opposed it because it is wholly unnecessary to take these risks, to change the policy of the government, to surrender the rights of the states, to make this foolish and unwarranted expenditure in order to accomplish the benefits which it is claimed are sought hereunder."

Representative Leatherwood charged that "The yellow press, the most disgraceful press in any country in the world today, owned and published by a man who stops at nothing to carry his point, is the only substantial sup-

SENATE INVESTIGATION ASKED OF THE FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY FILMS

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(Special.)—An investigation into the practices of the film boards of trade and the Famous Players-Lasky corporation or the Famous Players-Lasky-Paramount corporation was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.).

The resolution would direct the senate judiciary committee to inquire what proceedings now are pending before the courts upon the initiation of the department of justice or otherwise, or before the federal trade commission, involving the acts of the concern.

The committee also would be asked to ascertain what complaints have been made and what proceedings have been begun to restrain or punish unlawful or apparently unlawful acts or practices of motion picture concerns.

port which this bill has in the United States today."

Mr. Leatherwood asserted that Mr. Hearst is affiliated with political interests in control of the Los Angeles bureau of power and light, which "set its lease of life with the building of the Los Angeles aqueduct, and after years of political bickering and maneuvering became firmly entrenched in the manufacture and distribution of electric power and light."

"The bureau has been buying most of its power from private companies and then distributing it," said Mr. Leatherwood.

"But with the great growth of Los Angeles during its big boom years the political power of this bureau with its hundreds of employees became the greatest single factor in Los Angeles local politics and a very considerable factor in state-wide politics. Naturally those managing the bureau wanted more electric power as well as more political power because the more business under their control the more employees—the bigger the playing the more powerful the group which controlled it."

"Municipal Ownership Organ."
"Now Hearst and his newspapers tied in with this political group in Los Angeles as they had in San Francisco. The Hearst papers have in effect been the house organ of political bureau engaged in municipal ownership enterprises in these two large cities of California."

Mr. Leatherwood traced the development of the Boulder dam project, asserting that the reclamation service was paid by the Los Angeles bureau of power and light a total of $140,000 to formulate the scheme.

"These payments of $140,000 to the bureau of reclamation explain many things," said Mr. Leatherwood.

"They explain why a power project was advocated by the reclamation service instead of a flood control project. Here also is the explanation of the fact that this plan for Boulder dam is a plan approved only by the engineers of the reclamation service. The federal power commission and the geological survey would not approve it; on the contrary, they disapproved it. The secretary of the interior did not approve it; on the contrary, he warned congress that it should be careful to compare the needs involved with the plan proposed."

"A Deliberate Steal."
"In view of the facts," said Mr. Leatherwood, "I am forced to call this proposal exactly what it is: An attempt at a deliberate steal from the treasury of the United States for the benefit of a political group in southern California, for the benefit of the real estate speculator in southern California, for the benefit of those newspapers owned by William Randolph Hearst, who thus extend their influence and grip on the communities which they mislead and misinform and thus control."

"We cannot escape the issue. The same is whether William Randolph Hearst and his string of newspapers run the congress of the United States. Are we to determine our votes on legislation without regard to the facts, merely because Mr. Hearst threatens us with libelous defamation, with contemptible falsehoods about alliance with a fictitious organization? Are we going to admit to the people of the United States that whenever Mr. Hearst wants to put over a raid upon the treasury of the United States we will be obliged to vote for it if he threatens us hard enough, without regard to the cost to the people we are here to represent?"

Hayden Attacks in Senate.

Senator Hayden said that the state of Arizona had three fundamental objections to the Boulder dam bill. He said it represented an attempt to coerce a sovereign state, it provided an unjust division of the waters of the Colorado river in the lower basin, and it failed adequately to compensate the states of Arizona and Nevada for the proposed use of their natural resources by the federal government, primarily for the benefit of the state of California.

Senator Hayden discussed a number of amendments he had offered. "One is to remedy a grave injustice to water users of the United States reclamation project at Yuma," said Senator Hayden. "Another amendment is to aid new settlers who may seek homes under the All-American canal by limiting the area to be furnished with water in any one ownership to 160 acres and requiring all excess lands to be sold at an appraised price, thus curtailing speculation."

"Still another is to provide that no lands having a present perfected right to water should be deprived of water in the endorsement of any treaty with Mexico, and that if any American lands are to be thus deprived of water it shall be in the inverse order of their priorities to the use of water."

Forced to Abandon Bond Grab.
Senator Hayden pointed out that the proponents of the bill have been forced to abandon their scheme for financing of the project through a bond issue, due to objections advanced by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the treasury department has utterly repudiated this bond issue plan," said Senator Hayden, "the propagandists who are urging the passage of this bill continue to iterate and reiterate that no sum is asked of the United States government in this plan."

"The statement that the Boulder dam enterprise can be built without the cost of a dollar to the United States government and all similar statements are pluperfect and perfervid piffle which deceive no one who seeks the truth."

120,000 TROOPS MOVE TO BATTLE SOUTH OF PEKING

Fighting Opens on West End of Line.

BY RODERICK MATHESON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Special. 1928; By The Chicago Tribune.)

TOKIO, May 22.—Negotiations between Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the north Chinese dictator, and the Japanese legation at Peking for Marshal Chang's orderly withdrawal into Manchuria appear to have broken down. The foreign office says Marshal Chang's agent approached the Japanese minister, Yohisawa, at Peking tonight with a proposal that the north-ers would immediately withdraw into Manchuria, provided Japan would stop the nationalist advance on Peking and guarantee that the Peking and Tientsin area would not be allowed to fall under south Chinese nationalist control.

Mr. Yohisawa refused, declaring such a step would be a violation of Japan's neutrality. Marshal Chang's desire apparently for a sort of buffer state for the Peking-Tientsin area, which would be between the nationalist domain and Manchuria.

Major Battle Developing.
War office advices report a major battle already is developing between the southern and northern forces. Preliminary fighting is now under way at the west end of the line between the Shan army, which is part of the southern attacking force, and the northern troops.

The war office says about 200,000 northern troops are opposing 220,000 advancing southerners along a line from Nankou pass, around Peking, through Pootungfu and Machang, which is about 40 miles south of Tientsin.

In defending the foreign concessions at Tientsin, the war office states, Japan favors renewing the Boxer protocol provision for an allied defense line in a circle about 7.43 miles around the city, which would render any damage to the city, given from artillery bombardments, impossible. So far, however, the Americans and British apparently are unwilling to participate in such action, which the Japanese may undertake independently.

May Neutrality Ports.
The war office said it also is considering a scheme for making Chinese port cities permanent neutral zones, although it is realized that such a plan would meet extensive opposition and necessitate permanent garrisons of foreign troops.

The Tokyo press features Tientsin dispatches indicating America's unwillingness to participate in any extensive Tientsin defense plans, and refers to "manifestations of disagreement among the powers regarding the Tientsin defenses."

FOR CONTROL OF CHINA

The armies of north and south China are face to face for what may prove the final battle of the long civil war for control of the country. Chang Tso-lin has massed his best troops south of Peking. His line extends from Machang, 40 miles south of Tientsin, to Pootungfu, 80 miles south of Peking. The nationalist troops of Gen. Chang Kai-shek have made a juncture with the army of Gen. Feng Yuxiang north of the Yellow river. The troops of Shanxi province are holding the western end of the line.

move by either side has been made to settle the Sino-Japanese clash at Tientsin, capital of Shantung province, according to authoritative information from south Chinese Nationalist sources today. The Chinese apparently believe their economic boycott ultimately will force the Japanese to realize the folly of their continued occupation of Shantung province. Dr. C. T. Wang, former Peking premier and now a member of the Nanking diplomatic committee, today said the Nationalists had done everything possible to prevent further friction in Shantung and hence were content to let the case rest, pending an outcome of the present fighting between the Nationalists and Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the north Chinese dictator, in the Peking-Tientsin area.

Regarding Japan's five demands pertaining to the Tientsin incident, Mr. Wang said except for the dismissal of one general who violated Marshal Chang Kai-shek's orders regarding the entrance into the Japanese guard area at Tientsin, the Nationalist government had not taken further action.

Michigan State College Changes Its President

East Lansing, Mich., May 22.—(AP)—The state board of agriculture today accepted the resignation of Kenyon L. Butterfield as president of the Michigan State college, effective immediately. At the same time it appointed Dean Robert S. Shaw president.

U. S. DEMANDS DEATH FOR CHINESE SLAYER OF U. S. MISSIONARY

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Execution of the murderer of Dr. William F. Seymour, head of the hospital of the American Presbyterian mission at Tientsin, was asked of the Nanking government in a formal note on May 15, the state department announced today.

Dr. Seymour, who was a graduate of Northwestern university, was killed by Chinese soldiers on April 18. Evidence was collected by the American legation from eyewitnesses.

"This evidence unmistakably shows," the note states, "that several nationalist soldiers under the general command of Marshal Feng Tu Hsiang seized Dr. Seymour on the street outside of the mission compound. He broke from their grasp and entering the compound barred the gate, whereupon the soldiers fired through Dr. Seymour's heart. The soldiers then opened the gate, robbed his body and departed."

ASKS SIMPLER TAXING SYSTEM, WITH ONE BOARD

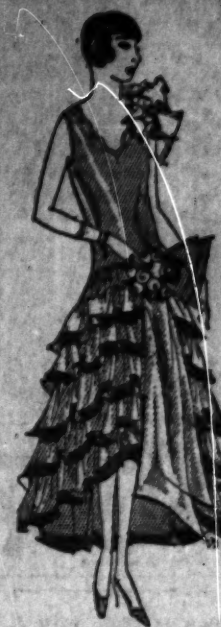

Abolition either of the board of review or board of assessors, as a measure toward more equitable taxation, is recommended in a report of the joint commission on real estate valuation, released yesterday by the director of the commission, John O. Rees.

The report declares there is no coordination between the two assessing boards and that the lack of centralized authority and responsibility gives property owners an opportunity generally used to obtain under-assessments.

"Each member of the boards," the paper reads, "can best strengthen his own political roots by exercising a special political guardianship over the assessment interests of his home district."

The assessment work would be handled best, according to the commission, by a non-elective administrative staff under one of the boards.

$100,000 HOOVER INDIANA FUND CHARGE REFUTED

Only $53,000, Manager Tells Senate Quiz.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Washington, D. C., May 23.—(Special.)—Reports that Hoover forces spent more than $100,000 for newspaper advertising alone and hired a veritable army of paid poll watchers during the recent Indiana primary campaign were exploded today by Oscar G. Foellinger, Port Wayne, Ind., publisher, who managed the commerce secretary's fight for Republican delegates in the Hoosier state.

A detailed financial statement submitted to the senate's special investigating committee by Foellinger disclosed that less than $15,000 of the $49,722.17 spent under his direction in Indiana went for newspaper advertising, and in response to a direct question, Foellinger flatly denied that a penny had been paid to poll watchers. The rumors of huge expenditures in Hoover's behalf were carried to the committee several days ago by M. Bert Thurman, manager of Senator Watson's campaign.

Total Fund $53,706. Foellinger in his statement today asserted that the total receipts of his committee from all sources was $53,706 and the balance of $3,923.33 now on hand is to be turned over to the national Hoover committee in Washington.

Mark L. Requa, San Francisco, contributed $5,000 of his own money and collected another $5,000 from California friends to help finance the Hoover campaign in Indiana, according to Foellinger's report, which lists a $5,000 gift from Harry Chandler, Los Angeles publisher, and $2,500 from James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana, in addition to $14,100 sent into the state by Chicago friends of the secretary.

Prominent Chicagoans Gave. The prominent Chicagoans whose names were included among the contributors to the Indiana fund and whose contributions, according to Foellinger, were collected by George Woodruff, chairman of the National Bank of the Republic, D. B. McLennan, LaSalle street broker, and Kent Clow, are:

George Woodruff, $2,500; H. M. Donovan, $1,500; W. E. Tagney, $1,500; R. McLennan, $7,000; Clayton Mark, $1,000; H. Schwab, $1,000; C. W. Seabury, $1,000; L. Avery, P. F. Hixon, C. F. Glare, $500 each; J. V. Farwell, W. E. Clow, $200 each; Augustus A. Carpenter, T. E. Donnelly, $100 each; H. B. Hale, $2,000; J. B. Forgan, $1,000; and Kent Clow, $1,000.

"What was Mr. Woodruff's interest in the Indiana campaign?" asked Senator Steiwer (Rep., Ore.), chairman of the committee. "He is a red hot Hoover man," answered Foellinger, adding that Mr. Woodruff had solicited $9,500 of the money contributed by Chicagoans.

Lowden Manager Heard. Clarence F. Buck, manager of Frank J. Lowden's national campaign, who was the last witness heard by the senators today, corroborated the earlier testimony of Lowden himself, and placed the total of expenditures in behalf of the former governor's candidacy at $53,522.90. The $1,467 balance remaining of the $55,000 raised for the campaign will be ample to cover all outstanding obligations and provide for the maintenance of convention headquarters in Kansas City, according to Buck.

In addition to the $20,000 contributed by Omer N. Custer, former state treasurer of Illinois, $17,500 from Robert H. Clark, former resident of Peoria, now living in Los Angeles, and $12,500 advanced by Lowden himself, Buck's report of receipts shows a number of substantial contributions by Chicagoans.

Among them is T. W. Robinson, Illinois Steel company executive, who is credited with a gift of $2,000, and who earlier in the day was listed by Larni Thompson, manager of the Buck testified that a total of $21,593 had been sent into Iowa, Oklahoma, Washington, Maryland, and Minnesota to assist local committees. He declared: "When I heard that the Lowden opposition was making headway in Minnesota I made up my mind that I would not let them take that state away from us, and I got a check for $10,000 from Mr. Custer and sent it up there."

WOMEN AID MEN IN FIGHT TO SAVE HOMES NEAR DAM

Threat of Rain Renews Menace to Valley.

Scotfield Dam Site, Utah, May 22.—(AP)—The threat of rain today brought a new menace to the Scotfield dam and the valleys below it after 400 workers, toiling desperately since early yesterday, apparently had won their battle to save the dam from collapse.

A heavy rain, it was feared, may cause the weakened structure to give way and send a wall of water down the narrow Pleasant Valley and on into Price canyon with destruction to farms and property in the towns of Rolap, Castle Gate, Helmer, Martin, Helper, Spring Glen and Price.

Two streams, Indian creek and Muddy creek, feed the big reservoir, and a rain of any considerable volume would soon overcome the advantage gained by gradual reduction of the water level through the flood gates. With the darkening of the skies the squads of men battling to save their homes in the valley redoubled their efforts to keep earth and rock from crumbling.

The women folk matched the heroic work of the men, serving coffee and sandwiches under great handicaps and even filling sandbags while the men paused to eat.

The leak at the bottom of the earth and rock fill barrier across the gorge had been held in check and progress was being made in plugging the break.

These hats have been made by hand and embody trim style, faultless construction and economical price. The sewing of the braid is notably fine needlework. Yards and yards of thread have been used without a single stitch showing. The trimming is an original design confined to Capper & Capper. Of importance is the fact that the "Boulevard Straw" is obtainable in sizes made especially for men with long and narrow (long-oval) heads. Comfortable fit is assured by the long-oval and regular-oval blocks on which these hats have been fashioned. The price is surprisingly reasonable:

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The United States senate yesterday passed a bill sponsored by Senator Reed [Rep., Pa.] making graduates of the army war college and the general service schools eligible for the general staff list at any time after graduation, instead of being appointed to the list only on graduation, as at present. Several hundred officers will be affected by this provision.

Another section of the bill opens the National Guard and reserve officers.

Another artery is a proposed extension of Wacker drive east of Michigan avenue.

At the request of Ald. Coughlin the city council some weeks ago ordered the board of local improvements and the Chicago plan commission to prepare plans and estimates of the cost of the Wacker drive extension. Preliminary data on that subject is promised within 30 days.

The third chief street in the Illinois Central air right development is the extension and widening of Randolph street eastward of Michigan boulevard.

The estimated cost is $10,000,000. The Lincoln park board has $5,000,000 available for this particular purpose and the south park commission has $5,000,000 in its treasury.

James Simpson, chairman of the Chicago plan commission, has the project at the point at which every member seems ready to cooperate, except the Chicago Canal and Dock commission. Its manager, W. O. Green, cannot, or has not, agreed to date with the Lincoln park commissioners on the land to be taken for the boulevard.

World condemn dock land. Anticipating President Eugene Pike, of the Lincoln park commission, has expressed Eugene H. Dupes to prepare for condemnation and the spreading of a special assessment, which the Lincoln park commission has authority to do through the old town of North Chicago.

The plans for the bridge have been submitted to Col. E. H. Schulz, army engineer in Chicago. It is understood that any changes he requests the park board will accept.

The right of way across the Illinois Central tracks, to be granted for a limited consideration, is said to be ready for O. K. as soon as the Lincoln park and south park engineers settle some details of construction.

This boulevard is one of the essential components in the development of the air rights of the I. C. above its tracks north of Randolph street.

BRENNAN OPENS FIRE ON BAR'S JUDICIAL SLATE

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

George E. Brennan accused the Chicago bar association of "chicanery, hypocrisy and double dealing" yesterday in an address to the Democratic committee opening the campaign for the judicial ticket. The Democratic leader declared that the association of lawyers in the city is making a fight against the people's right to elect judges.

"Good judges should be reflected in the fact that the bar association is an attempt by an inner clique of lawyers with deeply furnished offices to bring the bench under an 'outside influence.'"

"For a week or more," said Mr. Brennan, "one of the bar association candidates has been calling up our Democratic committeemen and asking them to get votes for him and they won't lose anything by it. What does that mean?"

"Talking about the rape of the law and that sort of thing—in all my life I have never asked a judge even to get a man off jury service. Can any member of the board of governors of the bar association say the same? They want judges who will rule with them and give them the best of it—it brings in the clients."

"I understand the association is trying to raise a campaign fund of $100,000, and that it plans to have billboards claiming this is a contest between the people and the bosses. I'm not a boss. I've been considered the head of the organization, because everything to be successful must have a responsible head."

"We as citizens have two cherished thoughts. One is our judiciary shall be above partisan politics. The other is that if a judge administers the law rightly, fearlessly and honestly, he should be returned to office."

Recalls Coalition History.

"Eight years ago, the Republican machine drunk with power, decided because the judges were not at their beck and call they'd throw them off the bench. They threw ten of their pickets. I advocated coalition to protect the bench and the people. The sitting judges on a coalition ticket were reflected by upwards of 100,000, although a year before Cook county had gone Republican by 400,000."

"A year ago we had coalition. The Republican organization did not nominate two judges. We had nothing to do with that."

"The bar association made a campaign on the issue that the sitting judges should be reflected. Now it seems fit to reverse itself. The bar association—that is, the sixteen men on the governing body—would like to name the judges themselves."

NATIONAL SCHOOL BAND CONTEST TO OPEN TOMORROW

Bands from Senn and De La Salle high schools will go to Joliet tomorrow to take part in the national high school band contest to be held there tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. They will face competition from 25 other crack bands from all over the country.

Preceding announcement of the winners on Saturday afternoon, the combined bands, with their 2,000 players, will parade through the business streets of Joliet. The parade will end in the massed playing of all the bands under direction of John Philip Sousa, who will also act as one of the judges. The other two judges will be Frank Goldman of New York and Capt. Charles O'Neill of Quebec.

Under the direction of A. R. McAllister, the Joliet high school band has held the national title for the past two years. A third winning will entitle the band to permanent possession of the national trophy.

AURORA FAMILY SURVIVES FLYER KILLED IN CRASH

E. J. Morrissey, 34 years old, air mail pilot, who was killed early yesterday morning when his plane crashed on a golf course near Richmond, Va., was a resident of Aurora. His widow and three small children live at 642 Panton avenue.

Only two months ago Morrissey, who was a flyer during the war, left his position as assistant chief engineer of the Aurora plant of the Western United Gas and Electric company to enter the mail service, remarking at the time that he could not resist the call of the air.

The fatal accident was attributed to a heavy fog. Morrissey, carrying mail from New Orleans, Atlanta and Richmond for Washington and New York, crashed shortly after leaving the Byrd airport at Richmond. Apparently he lost his way in the mists and tried to land to get his bearings.

MANDELL BROTHERS MEN'S SHOPS

LEAPS TO DEATH AS POLICE RAP ON DOOR; THREE ARE ARRESTED

County Treasurer Backs
His Interest Policy.

Two detectives from the Des Plaines street station, passing 1344 West Madison street yesterday, saw three men and a woman examining bolts of silk in a second story flat. Deciding to investigate they demanded admittance. One of the men in the room leaped from the window to the sidewalk and suffered injuries that caused his death a short time later. He was William Dobson, 37, of 2931 North Clark street. The others were arrested. The silk was held while an investigation to determine whether it was stolen is in progress.

banks used as depositories for public funds.

Offers Higher Rate.

"I am a director in two banks which have offered the county two and three-fourths per cent interest on tax deposits," President Cernak said. "Neither of these banks received any deposits, yet I understand that other banks are paying only two and a half per cent interest. I shall ask Mr. Harding to explain."

Treasurer Harding admitted that he is getting a lower rate of interest on tax money than did his predecessors, but defended his policy. The lower rate, he said, was because he left the money in the banks for only a short time, turning the funds over to the taxing bodies as quickly as collected, rather than holding the money in the banks. He denied giving preference to any bank.

Harding Presents Figures.

"I have lost a fraction of a percent in interest," the treasurer said, "but I am saving the taxing bodies from borrowing funds at from four and a half to six per cent. In 1927 I saved the taxing bodies $1,828,494 in interest they would have had to pay on borrowed money if I had followed the former policy of this office of holding the money in the banks. In doing this I lost $601,937 that would have been earned had I kept the money in banks, rather than distributing it promptly. This shows that my policy saved the taxpayers $1,226,457 in one year."

County officials have objected to my policy because most of the interest on deposits goes to the county's fund. I am in favor of a new law distributing this interest among all of the taxing bodies of the county, since it is really their money and not the county's."

FOUND DROWNED IN RIVER.

Frank Voick, 22, of 2438 South Western avenue, Berwyn, was found dead yesterday in the Des Plaines river at Forest Park. He had been depressed because he was unable to find work.

POLAND STARTS CAMPAIGN TO SUPPRESS REDS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
WARSAW, Poland, May 22.—The communist success in Germany has impressed Poland with the necessity of organizing a systematic campaign against the Reds.

The first step was to inflict stringent sentences on communists on trial in Vilna for belonging to the "Hromada," a secret Russian organization accused of plotting the establishment of a republic affiliated with soviet Russia. Thirty-seven communists were sentenced to a total of 208 years in prison.

The condemned include four members of parliament, each of whom got a sentence of twelve years.

Obregon Bill to Reduce

Mexican Deputies Passes

MEXICO CITY, May 22.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies last night passed Gen. Alvaro Obregon's bill reducing the number of deputies three years from now. The bill was the subject of a lively debate when the Laborites attempted to block its passage. The senate rushed through a bill which was previously passed by the chamber providing that judges shall be appointed by the president instead of elected.

SWEDISH UNIONS STRIKE AGAINST NEW LABOR LAW

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 22.—Work was abandoned in Sweden today by all organized workers to demonstrate against the government's proposition for new laws regulating the relations of capital and labor, and instituting labor tribunals before which collective agreements between employers and employees will be handled in case of conflicts.

The communists threaten sabotage in connection with the new laws, and would cancel the existing collective agreements.

Germany Finds Women

Supported Conservatives

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, May 22.—Germany believes it has discovered the secret of women's political mind. In districts in which they voted separately the women chose conservatives of the middle parties. Germany deduces that they are constitutionally conservative. They favored the Nationalists and the Catholic Center party. The men, who boast of their political experience, voted heavily for the communists.

CANADA'S EAST COAST PROVINCES RENEW DEMANDS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
OTTAWA, Ont., May 22.—Canada's maritime provinces again voiced dissatisfaction with their present lot as part of the dominion.

Thomas Cantley, Nova Scotia, Conservative, directly referred to the session threat of the Atlantic provinces when he told the Canadian parliament that, although the maritimes could get along without Canada, Canada could not get along without the maritimes.

The government has granted every recommendation of the maritime investigating commission with the exception of the steel bounties and tariff concessions, which were the object of today's discussion.

James McDermott, N.S., fearing that his 17 year old son, Paul, missing since paid on Friday, had been killed and perhaps killed, Steven, brother, 1451 North Luma avenue, asked the police yesterday to start a search.

'JUNGLE WOMAN' SHIMMIES FOR NEWER PEDAGOGY

While Parents Protest the Closing of Schools.

Protests against Mayor Thompson's Riverview park excursions for school children continued to pile up on the desks of the mayor and School Board President J. Lewis Coath as yesterday's sunshine swelled the exodus from the classrooms to the penny arcade and freak shows of the amusement park.

While parents and teachers met to denounce the outrage as demoralizing, the park rang with the shrieks of 10,000 boys and girls and the shouts of barker delivering the "come on" to the children who crowded in numbers about the side shows.

"Come and see Amazonia," shouted the barker outside show No. 2, "once as wild as any beast that roams the jungle, now as intelligent as a tamed lady, brought from her native habitat in Amazon wilds by Prof. Johnson of the Smithsonian institute and educated with the best education he had. If any of you kiddies wants to talk to her you'll find her very interesting and instructive."

And the kiddies paid their nickels—the price has been reduced from ten to five cents, "especially for Mayor Thompson's little guests"—and they saw Amazonia, a towering, half bare Negro who grinned and shook her hips.

Following are some of the protests received by Coath and Mayor Thompson from the Parent-Teacher organizations:

"The children, while at Riverview are unsupervised, unprotected, and are tempted to spend money on all sorts of undesirable side shows, gambling devices, and many other forms of indecent amusement. Overstimulation and excitement, indulgence in improper food lead to listlessness, irritability, nervousness, and untidiness for school work. The danger to the morals of the young mind is obvious."

"To say that we are affronted is mild indeed. We are hereby registering our deepest resentment over the situation."

—Mrs. Irene M. Symonds, vice president Illinois Congress of Parent-Teachers.

SHAW JOSHES AT YANKS WHO BUY FIRST EDITIONS

(Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.) LONDON, May 22. — Apparently George Bernard Shaw never tires of joshing America and Americans. He has a glorious time tilting his face at the United States in a newspaper interview this morning, to wit:

"Will you believe it? I heard a few days ago I lived in a flat. I occupy Adelphi Terrace—L. George Bernard Shaw. Why, the place is simply saturated with me."

"What's happened to the great American people? Where's their enterprise? We've heard so much about it. Surely if they knew I once lived there they'd buy every stick or stone of the place."

But almost in the next breath he complains the world has gone mad about celebrities.

"Do you know the price of first editions of my works has increased seven-fold since January? Then look at the price paid for Alice in Wonderland! After all, it is Americans who pay these fancy prices for a bit of paper—a dirty bit at that."

Gleefully Shaw tells how he has checkmated lecture agencies which offered him American lectures at $2,500 apiece by lecturing for talking films.

"The idea of addressing a million people at a time rather appeals to me."

HURLEY INVITES BRITAIN TO TAKE PART IN FAIR

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) LONDON, May 22.—Preliminary discussions which it is hoped will lead to a representation of Great Britain's greatest scientists at the Chicago centennial in 1933, were begun here today by Chairman Edward N. Hurley, who arrived Saturday from Chicago.

Plans for making the Chicago fair an international rally for leaders of practically every branch of human progress are being outlined to various leaders as well as to newspapermen.

Mr. Hurley said he was pleased with the initial response. He will go to the continent Saturday.

JUDGE ASKS OF HUGHES JURY BOND

McGoorty Gives McLaughlin

CRIMINAL
Edward Chase and James J. McGoorty, indicted to 1 year in Pontiac Reformatory, N. Miller.
John Smith and Raymond (changed to 1 year) to 10 years each in Pontiac Reformatory, N. Miller.

Commissioner of Police Hughes was called into yesterday by Judge John and asked to exert his department in the case of the members of the Chicago, 10303 Avenue.

one of the jury was Eugene McLaughlin, a lawyer. Acting First Assistant Attorney General William A. Rife asked to cooperate.

The judge turned over the case to the jury, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty on the bombing and the murder of John D. Barker, president of the company. Eugene was the crime but the case for lack of evidence.

Robert McLaughlin, is of the cab company.

Accused Men Win
While asking for the police commissioner, the judge yesterday, which is considerable victory for Robert McLaughlin, secretary of the company, and the latter's testimony, the judge ruled that the indictment against Eugene McLaughlin was ordered.

Assistant State's Attorney Dougherty was ordered the indirect contempt of the interrogatories for the men.

Denials May Free
Under indirect contempt it is only necessary for men to the sworn charges to escape punishment, which in the past has been successfully prosecuted having disappeared, not held out for a conviction by indictment received against the men.

JUDGE ASKS AID OF HUGHES IN JURY BOMB HUNT

McGoorty Gives Police
McLaughlin Evidence.

CRIMINAL COURT.
James Chase and James Briggs, witnesses, sentenced to 1 year to life each for false testimony by Judge Harry J. McGoorty.

Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes was called into conference yesterday by Judge John P. McGoorty and asked to exert every resource of the department in an effort to catch the members of the home of Fred W. Hughes, 1000 Avenue J, who was foreman of the jury which convicted Eugene McLaughlin of attempted robbery. Acting First Assistant State's Attorney William A. Rittenhouse was called to cooperate.

The judge turned over to the police commissioner and the prosecutor several letters containing information not only on the bombing and attempt to influence the McLaughlin case, but also on the murder of Joseph Wokral, former president of the Checker Cab company. Eugene was charged with this crime but the case was dismissed for lack of evidence. His brother, James McLaughlin, is president now of the cab company.

Accused Men Win Point.

While asking for the cooperation of the police commissioner and the prosecutor, the judge yesterday made a ruling which is considered a signal victory for Robert McLaughlin and James Stetson, secretary of the Chauffeurs and Teamsters' union. The judge ruled that the intimidation story told by Walter Newman, complaining witness against Eugene, and the attempt to influence Ricketts, according to the latter's testimony, does not constitute direct contempt of court.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles Montgomery was ordered to proceed on the indirect contempt theory and file interrogatories for the men to answer.

Denials May Free Accused.
These indirect contempt proceedings are necessary for the accused men to file sworn denials to the charges to escape punishment. The only other recourse is perjury indictment, which in the past has rarely been prosecuted. Newman having disappeared, not much hope is held out for a conviction on the conspiracy indictment recently returned against the men.

REDS PICK BOSS NOT FOR SKILL BUT FOR REDNESS

Industry Suffers from Theory and Politics.

BY VINCENT M. VOKOVICH.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
(Copyright, 1928; By The Chicago Tribune.)
RIGA, Latvia, May 22.—Like all other organizations in soviet Russia, the industrial management is based on impractical theories which are costly to the nation.

The "troika" system of industrial management, composed of three persons, namely, the general manager, technical director, and commercial director, theoretically distributes the duties scientifically and gives more or less freedom to each man directing the work assigned to him.

The technical director, usually an experienced engineer and a non-communist, supervises all the technical activities of the enterprise. He hires his assistants with the approval and consent of the general manager.

Has Lots of Visitors.
In addition to the supervision of the works and planning, the technical director has to prepare the budget and estimates of the works, which usually takes a great deal of his time. Also, he is called upon to report the activities of his department to the various workers' organizations and to the management of the trust to which his enterprise belongs. Private conferences with several authorities and commissions continuously visiting the plant must be attended by the technical director, and he is obliged to explain different phases of technical operations of the enterprise.

The duties of the technical director also include the selection of modern machinery and equipment, neither manufactured nor used in soviet Russia, but to be purchased in Germany and America. The machinery and equipment are bought by inexperienced men, and in most cases not in accordance with the orders. They are installed and operated under the responsibility of the technical director, who in many instances is not acquainted with their functions. The men who operate the machines are totally ignorant of their workings. For all defects connected with ordering, purchasing, installing and operating the new machinery and equipment, usually strange to all persons concerned, the technical director is responsible.

Communist Runs Treasury.
The best part of his time the technical director spends in preparing budgets and estimates, merely clerical work, and in training himself to deliver addresses to numerous workers' organizations and commissions. To study and think about his technical duties he has to lock himself in his

THREE SOVIET POETS ARE SENTENCED FOR ATTACKING GIRL

MOSCOW, May 22.—(AP)—Three youths who were considered poets in Moscow's Bohemia were today sentenced to imprisonment for assaulting a girl after a drinking bout. Their victim committed suicide next day and the trial attracted such throngs that troops were required to maintain order.

The youths were 18, 20 and 23 years old respectively. Evidence was given that the defendants were followers of erotic beliefs and practices introduced into Russian Bohemian circles by Mme. Islamov, wife of the former president of the Uzbek republic. The defense contended that the accused were victims of this cult, and the public cheered the point, seeming to blame conditions rather than the individuals.

room after his family goes to bed. The commercial director, usually a communist, devotes his time to purchasing and selling, and controls the treasury of the enterprise. He is appointed to his post, not because he is a trained commercial man but because he has proved his loyalty to the communist party, occupied a high political position, and made good in his propaganda work.

If Pays Him to Travel.
The commercial director usually travels around the country, closing the purchasing and selling agreements with the different firms. Due to the fact that the communist cannot receive more than 210 rubles (about $108) per month salary, the commercial director, who receives double pay while traveling, plus traveling expenses, endeavors to accumulate sufficient business outside his enterprise in order to increase his basic salary, at least to that of the technical director.

I recollect one instance when our commercial director, a bolshevik, went to Odessa to purchase an automobile. He returned four days later, notifying us that he closed the deal. We thought the automobile business had ended, but when he appeared in the office three days later, telling us he was going to Odessa to ship the auto to Donets basin, we thought it a great joke.

He returned a few days later and notified us that he was going to Rostov to buy two buggies. The American engineer shouted, "John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan would go broke in Russia in thirty days." Loyalty to Reds Chief Requisite.
The general manager of the "red director" must be an old chekist, or nodpolchik, who has earned the full confidence of the central party offices before he is appointed to this dignified and authoritative position. The red directors are selected not in accordance to their ability or experience in administrative work, or knowledge of a particular industry, but according to their loyalty and support of the central committee of the communist party. Usually a shoemaker is president of a steel trust, or a miner the general manager of an electrical trust.

2 MORE LAWYERS OUSTED IN RED SABOTAGE TRIAL

(Copyright, 1928; By The New York Times.)
MOSCOW, May 22.—A fresh coup de theatre occurred today in the trial of fifty Russians and three Germans for sabotage in the Donets basin coal mines. The Pravda stenographic report of yesterday's testimony revealed that two of the accused had made semi-audible statements that their lawyer and M. Muravoff had urged them to withdraw or change the testimony they gave during the preliminary inquiry.

The Pravda says both lawyers, working in partnership, told their clients their only chance of life was to withdraw some of their previous testimony.

The court promptly directed that both lawyers should be replaced and ordered the prosecuting attorney's office to conduct an inquiry into their conduct.

Houston, Tex., May 22.—(Special.)—At least one spot that might possibly have been wet during the approaching Democratic convention was blotted out by Houston dry raiders today. Boats were piled so high on the ships that the dockhouses were hidden from view and the gunwales were awash in the breeze.

Federal Bureau of Investigation, in an address broadcast of authority and urged the preservation of national and lo-

Johnson explained the relation between federal and state government, and how the people through their representatives in congress hold a check on federal power.

"If federal authority is centralized, it is the states which have brought about the present situation."

the federal government.

"We have in the United States interests and a sense of definite respon-ity if we should lose or waste this opportunity."

INDICT FORMER CUSTOMS MEN AS RUM RUNNERS

Let In Shipments from Canada.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 22.—[Special.]—
While Glenn Jennings and Chris Dew, United States coast guards, were being held in $15,000 bail at Fort Niagara on an assault charge resulting from the shooting of Jacob D. Hanson, secretary of the Niagara Falls Elks lodge, Niagara frontier residents heard that two indictments against former customs officials here had been returned in connection with a conspiracy to pass liquor-bearing freight cars from Canada to the United States.
The coast guard is said not to be implicated in the present case, which has been under investigation by a federal grand jury and government investigators for weeks. The two coast guards are being held to await action of the Niagara county grand jury on a second degree assault charge, based on the Hanson shooting. Hanson still is reported to be in a serious condition. Should he recover he will be blind and his mind will be impaired.

Appear in Uniform.

Jennings and Dew were arraigned before Peace Justice Charles Fieldus at Lewiston. Bowdoin F. L. Beck and two armed coast guardsmen brought them before the justice.
The arraignment, in the living room of the judge's home, was attended by a dozen persons, among them James
A. Franklin, exalted ruler of the Niagara Falls lodge of Elks. Justin
C. Morgan, assistant United States district attorney at Buffalo, appeared for the defendants. A plea of not guilty was entered by each. The defendants waived examination and were held for the June grand jury.

Raymond A. Knowles, Niagara county prosecutor, will present the case to the grand jury. Whether the case will be transferred to the federal court in Buffalo depends upon action taken after the grand jury has passed upon the case. Judge John R. Hazel having indicated that his decision on the application made by United States Attorney Richard H. Fennelton should await the jury's findings.

In holding the defendants for the grand jury Justice Fieldus said: "It is evident that a crime has been committed and there is sufficient evidence to suppose the men might be guilty."
Sheriff J. A. Campbell and a deputy took the accused into custody. In line with a prior agreement the two guards were taken to coast guard headquarters at Lewiston and held under technical arrest, pending grand jury action. County Judge William A.

Gold at Lockport set bail for Jennings, alleged to have shot Hanson, at $10,000, and that of Dew at $5,
000. Both furnished bond.
About 60 men, including two former customs agents, are said to have been indicted by the federal grand jury.
The case is said to involve the passage, under government seal, of freight cars containing liquor across the border for distribution in the United States.
Canadian customs officials tipped off

the United States investigators when an American who had been drinking produced a sheave of bills in the Canadian customs office and demanded a supply of the seals which carry immunity from inspection in shipments across the border.

ONLY CADILLAC-LA SALLE can give this SURPASSING 8-CYLINDER PERFORMANCE

THEIR wonderful V-type vibrationless engine enables Cadillac and La Salle to stand practically alone in the highest fine-car field.

In a very vital sense no other car is in a position to compete with Cadillac and La Salle.

Others cannot hope to give as much because they have never been able to command a market big enough to spread the cost of Cadillac high manufacturing.
If cost cannot be cut down by volume, it must be cut out somehow.

Surrender and compromise are the inevitable result. There must be compromise either in materials; in size, finish and appointments; or in some other factor indispensable to the owner's comfort and the value he gets.

Cadillac has never faced this predicament. Thanks to its surpassingly large fine-car following, Cadillac is able to accomplish results almost literally impossible in any other institution.

Among these results is the famous V-type Cadillac-La Salle power plant—Cadillac's greatest contribution to the advancement of the motor car.

Whether in the new Cadillac or the La Salle, this power plant is a 90-degree, V-type Eight and these symbols stand for an engineering principle so vital to attaining the utmost in 8-cylinder performance that no man or woman seeking the best possible investment in fine cars can ignore them.

They signify the vastly superior 8-cylinder principle embodied in the arrangement of two blocks of four cylinders, each block placed opposite the other at a V-shaped angle of 90 degrees—as contrasted with the alignment of the entire eight cylinders one after the other.

This remarkable power plant, in itself, is ample reason for Cadillac and La Salle's commanding and unassailable position in the highest fine-car field.

$2875. Cadillac prices, $3295 to $3950. Exclusive Fisher and Fisher-Fleetwood custom-built bodies up to $5500. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

GREECE MAY GET VENIZELOS BACK AS CABINET QUILTS

Forces the Suspension of Parliament.

ATHENS, May 22.—(AP)—Suspension of parliament by the president tonight followed resignation of the cabinet earlier today and had resulted in the falling of a political crisis upon Greece, which may have the most far reaching effects.

Political prognosticators saw in the happenings a series of events calculated to bring back into power Eleutherios Venizelos, former premier and strong man during the world war. An invitation to him to return to form a new cabinet was forecast in some quarters.

Parliament was suspended by President Konstantinos after it had assembled to receive the resignations of the Zaimis cabinet.

Liberals Resign

Events piled one on another today, beginning with the announcement by Finance Minister Kafaderis, first of his resignation from the cabinet and later of his leadership of the Liberal party.

Five other Liberal ministers thereupon resigned and President Zaimis finding it impossible to reconstruct the ministry, offered the resignation of the entire cabinet to the president.

The called session of parliament followed a day of turmoil in which the return of M. Venizelos was freely predicted as the probable solution of the situation.

The return of the former premier is certain to be attended by considerable opposition from the Mextaxists and other moderate royalists. Today's crisis is in a measure laid to refusal of Gen. Mextaxas to collaborate with any government influenced by M. Venizelos, who has long been regarded as the power behind the scenes.

Ousted in 1924

M. Venizelos was last in power in Greece in 1924, and should be content to come back to form a new ministry. It is expected he would call new elections for July.

An open letter from M. Merkouris, former royalist mayor of Athens, to M. Venizelos was made public today in which it was charged the threat of the former premier's return to political life had already revived long smoldering controversies.

M. Venizelos is expected shortly to tour the country explaining the reasons for his return should he decide to stage a comeback.

YEA'S PADLOCK PUT ON MIDNIGHT FROLICS CABARET
The Midnight Frolics cabaret of 18 East Twenty-second street, long a center of night life frivolity, was padlocked yesterday for one year under a new decree issued by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindsey. The padlock order was obtained on observation evidence.

The cabaret was formerly Fretberg's dance hall and was the scene of the many downtown political balls of the old levee days. Jacob Adler and Ralph Gillett started the first night club there shortly after the war. Recently Adler was kidnapped and held for a reported ransom of $100,000.

YANKEE CHEMIST PAYS FINE, QUILTS GERMAN PRISON

DUSSELDORF, Germany, May 22.—(AP)—Gulde Meisel, American chemist of Portsmouth, N. H., who was sentenced to one year's imprisonment for seeking German chemical and dye secrets, was released today after he paid a fine of 5,000 marks.

Mr. Meisel's health suffered because of imprisonment, and he and Mrs. Meisel will return to the United States immediately. They will settle on a farm at Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Meisel had spent eight months in prison before he was brought to trial. He was sentenced Feb. 13. In convicting Mr. Meisel, the court ruled that the American, as a trained business man and experienced chemist, must have been aware that he was obtaining valuable professional secrets through illegitimate methods and that he was in a position to make a profitable disposal of them.

The court said that the evidence showed Mr. Meisel had been carrying on industrial espionage intermittently since 1920.

Americans to be presented in the general circle besides Miss Hurley will be Miss Clementine Miller of Columbus, Ind.; Mrs. Charles Deere Wiman of Moline, Ill.; Miss Lela Davidson of Houston, Tex.; Miss Ruth Draper, American character sketch artist, who now is appearing in London; Miss Neville Gherardi of Washington, D. C.; and Miss Frances Howard of Atlanta, Ga.

FOOTE IN CRITICAL CONDITION AFTER FALL FROM TRAIN

Howard W. Foote, chairman of the board of directors of the Northwestern Expanded Metal company, who was injured early Monday when he fell as he was boarding a North Shore train at Glenview, was in a critical condition at the Highland Park hospital last evening. Mr. Foote left his home at 247 Beach road, Glenview, to come to his office at 37 West Van Buren street. It is believed that he attempted to board the train after the doors were closed and that as the cars gained momentum he was hurled to the ground. His left leg and left arm were broken, his left knee was dislocated, and he suffered a scalp wound and numerous bruises. Mr. Foote is 55 years old.

FOLLOW AMERICA TO WORLD PEACE, SAYS MACDONALD

Simplifies
U. S. Proposal.

BY PAUL SHINKMAN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, May 22.—The Kellogg proposal is a "magnificent statement of simple fact," said Ramsay
MacDonald, leader of the Labor party and former prime minister, addressing several hundred members of the American Chamber of Commerce
in London today.

The silver-haired Laborite, stating
he has no previous experience in treating the subject, characterized the statement: "we hereby sincerely and solemnly denounce war as part of national policy." The speaker quickly disposed of the question of reservations, stating that if the world waited for a note from America, from Great Britain, or from heaven itself, without disputable points, it would be reduced to dust before such a note appeared.

Land's U. S. Attitude.
"I never criticized America's refusal to enter the league of nations," Mr.
MacDonald said. "It has a perfect right to do as it wishes. But whatever America's attitude toward the league,
we have never had any doubt about its attitude toward peace. The Kellogg note is no surprise. It expresses America's sentiments and emphasizes the American ambition as to the part it is to play in the government of the world."

Pointing out that America's position is that of a spectator at the European political arena, the former prime minister humorously stated that struggling European states sometimes are tempted to invite critics to come down
from their seats and see if they can do better.

"The note represents the characteristic American statement, 'you are getting too complicated. Why not see the simplicity of it all?'" he said.

Should Be Simple Problem.
"It shows the tremendous power of the simple statement of what should be a simple problem. Mr. Kellogg has said that if Europe does not want war
there is no reason to have war. I wish we had led this move, but since
America is leading, let us follow."

Mr. MacDonald derided Britons and Americans hatching upon language and sentimentality. He said that peoples with the same language, traditions and institutions can fight each other, but Anglo-American relations are based on real fellowship and mutual understanding.

Canada's Signature Asked.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Ottawa, Ont., May 22.—The United States today formally invited Canada
to join her in a treaty outlawing war,
and Premier Mackenzie King announced that undoubtedly Canada
would accept.

The invitation, conveyed to Premier
King by William Phillips, United States minister to Canada, is the same as the proposal submitted to Great Britain.

Belgium Wants to Sign.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BRUSSELS, May 22.—A semi-official note was issued from an authorized source tonight stating that the country is eager to participate in the preliminary discussions of Secretary of State Kellogg's anti-war treaty proposal.

5 FAIL TO APPEAR IN BUCKET SHOP COURT HEARING

Five officials of Penn. Tobin & Co., 165 West Monroe street, an alleged bucket shop declared by Secretary of State Louis L. Brandeis to have been guilty of sharp and illegal practices, failed to appear yesterday to face charges of violation of the blue sky laws.

Municipal Judge Charles F. Mc-Kinley continued the charges until next Tuesday upon the plea of the defense attorney, Herman P. Scher.
Scher claimed that his clients are seeking to work out plans for restitution to their customers, who are said to have lost $500,000 in investments.

In a recent raid on the company's office, Louis M. Mills and his defective squad arrested four of the officials named in warrants. They are Olef Anderson, 741 I. Dante avenue, head of the firm; Harold B. Denison, 1435 Lomb avenue; Simon Sanders, 218 South Sacramento; and Jack Harvey. The fifth, Harry Relf, is still being sought.

The license of the company was suspended on April 22 after an investigation by the secretary of state, who reported that "material misrepresen-tations had been made to customers."

SCORNING CANDY, WIFE SAYS SHE WANTS DIVORCE

Superior Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday joined with James Barrett Johnson, a commercial artist, in the latter's campaign to win back his estranged wife, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, 1223 Estes avenue. But they both failed.

Johnson was in court with his attorney, Otto Esler, on a motion to modify Mrs. Johnson's pending injunction so he will not be enjoined from sending her candy and flowers. The judge took the couple into his chambers.

The husband said he loved his wife.
She responded that he had killed her love by abusive treatment during their nine years of married life. He had not given her candy and flowers while they were living together, she said, and added that all she wants from him now is a divorce.

Attorney E. C. Kroon, representing the wife, insisted the injunction stand so as to bar the husband from annoying his wife at her place of employment or at her home. Judge Sabath said the injunction would stand, but that it would not restrain Johnson from peaceful and dignified attempts to woo his wife, such as sending her candy and flowers. Her divorce suit is set for next month.

Gone for the afternoon

-dinner at Six.. with The Waterless Cooker

Perhaps it was necessary in your mother's day to spend dreary hours in the kitchen, standing over a hot stove, wearily watching the cooking of the family meals.

Nowadays there is no reason for it.
You do not have to lose your youth, your health or any of your interest in life, toiling in the kitchen. Even the woman who does all her own cooking can NOW spend those hours in doing countless other and more enjoyable things.

The Waterless Cooker Takes You OUT of the Kitchen

When you use The Waterless Cooker you can leave the kitchen entirely, during the hours you usually cook lunch or dinner. Whatever you have planned for the whole meal—meat, vegetables and dessert—you place in The Waterless Cooker and set it over only one burner.
Then turn the flame down low and leave the house. You needn't give it so much as a second thought. When you return at meal time, everything will be ready to serve.

Then you will find a most temptingly delicious meal, done to your taste—perfectly! Each food has been cooked entirely in its own rich juices—without water. The natural flavors, the precious mineral salts and vitamins so essential to the health of children and grown-ups... all are preserved in their full strength.

Patented Cover Clamps Keep the Steam In

None of the moisture present in the foods themselves is lost by evaporation.
Specially constructed clamps—of an exclusive patented design—firmly anchor

Cooker to cook the food perfectly and absolutely prevent scorching.

Simplifies
U. S. Proposal.

BY PAUL SHINKMAN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, May 22.—The Kellogg
proposal is a "magnificent
statement of simple fact," said Ramsay
MacDonald, leader of the Labor
party and former prime minister, addressing several hundred members of the American Chamber of Commerce
in London today.

The silver-haired Laborite, stating
he has no previous experience in treating the subject, characterized the
statement: "we hereby sincerely and
solemnly denounce war as part of national policy." The speaker quickly disposed of the question of reservations, stating that if the world waited
for a note from America, from Great Britain, or from heaven itself, without disputable points, it would be reduced to dust before such a note appeared.

Land's U. S. Attitude.
"I never criticized America's refusal
to enter the league of nations," Mr.
MacDonald said. "It has a perfect right to do as it wishes. But whatever America's attitude toward the league,
we have never had any doubt about
its attitude toward peace. The Kellogg note is no surprise. It expresses America's sentiments and emphasizes
the American ambition as to the part
it is to play in the government of the world."

Pointing out that America's position
is that of a spectator at the European political arena, the former prime minister humorously stated that struggling European states sometimes are
tempted to invite critics to come down
from their seats and see if they can do better.

"The note represents the characteristic American statement, 'you are getting too complicated. Why not see the simplicity of it all?'" he said.

Should Be Simple Problem.
"It shows the tremendous power of
the simple statement of what should be a simple problem. Mr. Kellogg has said that if Europe does not want war
there is no reason to have war. I wish we had led this move, but since
America is leading, let us follow."

Mr. MacDonald derided Britons and Americans hatching upon language and sentimentality. He said that peoples
with the same language, traditions and
institutions can fight each other, but Anglo-American relations are based on real fellowship and mutual understanding.

Canada's Signature Asked.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Ottawa, Ont., May 22.—The United States today formally invited Canada
to join her in a treaty outlawing war,
and Premier Mackenzie King announced that undoubtedly Canada
would accept.

The invitation, conveyed to Premier
King by William Phillips, United States
minister to Canada, is the same as the proposal submitted to Great Britain.

Belgium Wants to Sign.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BRUSSELS, May 22.—A semi-official note was issued from an authorized source tonight stating that
the country is eager to participate in the preliminary discussions of Secretary of State Kellogg's anti-war treaty
proposal.

AMATEUR RULES
TO BE ENFORCED
AT WIMBLEDONTennis Stars Must Not
Write for Papers.BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, May 22.—Tennis champions with literary ambitions, which includes a good share of the doubles players, are looking after their newspaper interests, which to some extent, is a doubtful value as a result of action of the Wimbledon committee in London.

The entry blanks for Wimbledon were received by the literary net stars today. There was a large chorus of groans, followed by angry exclamations in several languages, when it was discovered that all the participants, following entry, must sign a statement containing an odious paragraph proscribing activities of a literary or journalistic variety during the Wimbledon tourney.

Must Be Amateurs.
"Only players who are bona fide amateurs," reads the statement, "must be allowed to compete in the Wimbledon tourney."

The American player who has the most difficult time returning, while for the first time she showed what she herebefore lacked, the ability to mix shots. Several times she caught Hunter flat-footed at the base line, with a neat drop shot, and her sudden changes of pace continually troubled her opponent.

Iowan Plans 90 Holes of Golf from Dawn to Dark.
Des Moines, Ia., May 22.—(AP)—Russell Haas, local amateur golfer, announced today he would take off fifteen hours next Monday in what he called a new sort of marathon golf record—playing 90 holes of golf from dawn to dusk, without repeating any of the holes. He will start with the dawn at 4:30 at Wakonda club course and play successively the 18 hole layouts of the Grand View, Hyperion, Waveland, and Country clubs, counting on finishing the latter at 1:30 p. m.

Columbus Team Lowers High School Relay Record.
Columbus, O., May 22.—(AP)—Columbus Central High school relay team today broke the world interscholastic record for the one mile relay, clipping a half second from the Los Angeles high school mark that has stood since 1910. The Columbus lads made the distance in 3 minutes 26.7 seconds during a dual competition with Columbus East High.

EVERYTHING'S ROSY NOW

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mandell of Rockford, Ill., who are sitting on top of the world as far as pugilism's 135 pound division is concerned. Mrs. Mandell didn't see Sammy McLarnin. She had to stay home to take care of Richard Samuel, a chap of eight months, who was born with his fists closed, according to the champion.

New York Ring Fans Marvel at Mandell's Speed and Poise

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, May 22.—The outcome of the lightweight championship prize fight between the Messrs. Samuel Mandell and James McLarnin has aroused mixed emotions among the clientele. Mixed emotions, like mixed ideas, are arguments and headaches. Mandell may be criticized as a non-fighting fighter because, in order that McLarnin would not be able to hit him, a solid punch, he went so fast that he was unable to hit McLarnin a solid punch. But if he had reduced his speed in order to take the necessary leverage, McLarnin would have hit him on the chin and might have knocked him out.

What Makes a Fight Good?
In that case, McLarnin would have been called the better fighter. The thing is becoming mixed already. Is a man a good fighter who takes steps to prevent another fighter from knocking him out? Is the other fighter more a fighter merely because he manifests a strong desire to win?

I was conscious of a feeling of frustration at the ringside, although Mandell's amazing speed and his poise in perilous moments fascinated me. He was like a great defensive back in football who analyzes, anticipates and acts all in one instant, for McLarnin is fast and always attacking. Still one came away feeling that if Mandell was as good as he seemed, McLarnin should have gone down temporarily anyway.

Compare Mandell and McLarnin.
Benny Leonard sat at the ringside and seeing him there, I imagined him in Mandell's place at a time when Samuel seemed to be wasting a lot of motion ducking McLarnin's swing. Leonard, when he was good, would have used the right hand more and would have ducked less and McLarnin would have run into the sort of chin-cracking punches that hung Hittch Mitchell helpless on the ropes. But Leonard would have been hit, too, and one of the objects of boxing is to avoid being hit without easily running away.

A couple of good falls would have made this a perfect prize fight. There is a good deal of longshoreman in the very first of the so-called best people at Tex Rickard's ringdiers. If there were not, Mandell's fight would have been entirely satisfactory.

Fight Has Air of Honesty.
In one respect, though, the affair was better than a heavyweight championship uplift ceremony. That is, there was never any consciousness that either party might have allies outside the ring.

The lightweight championship prize fight now is a modest title, not worth the efforts of the more resourceful fixers, whereas when the heavyweight title, valued at two million dollars, goes into the ring there is invariably some controversy regarding a newly promulgated rule changing the knock-down count from nine to fourteen, or a contract between the champion and a low character.

There have been so many puzzling revelations and rumors in connection with heavyweight championship fights since Jeffries lost the title that one cannot feel feeling that the happenings in the ring may have only the vaguest bearings on the outcome.

The paucity of patronage at a championship uplift under Rickard's auspices may presage something of the sort at the heavyweight uplift in July, but I doubt it.

with one out, and Mostil then caught two fly balls to end the round.

The tie did not last long enough, to provide the Indians with any enjoyment. Leading off in the fourth was Hunnefeld, who had driven home Mostil in round one. This time Honey Boy lined to left and made three bases when the ball took a bounce past Jamieson. Hunnefeld remained on third while Barrett was accepting three strikes and then ran home in advance of Metzler, who drove the ball into the right field pavilion. Metzler was toiling in place of Falk, who was given a bench ticket.

Connally Rushes to Rescue.

Mostil took a deceptive hand in the game again in the sixth and only for this there might have been trouble a-plenty. Summa and Hodapp singled with an out. L. Sewell followed with a drive that had all the earmarks of a hit and Summa started home from second on it, but Mostil dashed over toward left, snaked the liner out of the air, and whipped it back toward the infield in time to get a double play at second. Then, in the seventh, Langford tied it with a homer to right while Jamieson was on first as the result of a single. And in the ninth Lind doubled and Langford walked with one gone, so it was necessary to call forth Rubber Arm, who did a good bit of reeling by getting the next two batters, one on strike.

SMITTY—THE KID MAKES A HIT

Kinnucan's 73 Leads Kiwanis Title Holder Golf; 'Big 4' Declines Prizes

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Woodlawn Kiwanis club's championship quartet of golfers, who will compete in the national Kiwanis championship at Seattle in June, proved their right to the honor by knocking over first and second low net prizes in the Kiwanis tournament in their honor at Cog Hill yesterday. And they showed their sportsmanship by declining to take the prizes and turning them back for the other 200 odd Kiwanians playing to shoot at.

Charles F. Kinnucan, champion of Calumet, led the team home over the hills and creeks and through the trees and valleys of Cog Hill with a score of 73-35-73. His total was one over par, which, considering the troubles in wait for the chap who doesn't hit 'em straight on this course, was mighty good golf. Dr. J. E. Harris, Kinnucan's playing partner, was next with 78.

Dr. Harris played good golf through the fairways, but three put greens boosted his total. Carl Runt and Tom Walsh, the other two members of the team, weren't quite so hot. With the team members waiving claims on prizes, Dr. Frank Hosper of the Englewood club, who tied Harris, 78, won low gross. Walter Crowder of the Chicago (Loop) Kiwanis club was second with 80 and Joe Tivnan, 81, was third. Ed Burke of Olympia Fields had low gross for guests with 82. Harry Butcher of Severly was next with 83 and J. J. Dwyer, unattached, third with an 84. Cliff Howell led the low net winners by turning in a 31 with a 27 handicap for 64 net.

In the team match of 50 members the Chicago loop club defeated the Woodlawn club by 211 points in gross scores. Prize winners were:

LOW GROSS, MEMBERS—Dr. Frank J. Hosper, Englewood, 78; Walter Crowder, Chicago, 80; Joe Tivnan, Chicago, 81. LOW GROSS, GUESTS—Ed Burke, Olympia Fields, 82; Harry Butcher, Severly, 83; J. J. The Edgewater Athletic club will hold the first of a series of tournaments at the Tam O'Shanter club today. Play will begin at 7 o'clock this morning and continue until the last "Edgewaterian" has finished the 18.

If you hit too low with the ball on sand, the sand scrapes up and acts as a cushion and the ball doesn't go. If the ball is lying clean and there is an abrupt rise immediately ahead of the ball, which the ball must clear, the shot should be played rather differently. This is an extremely open stance, nearly facing the hole, with the ball off the left foot, and play to the left of the pin. Lay the club face far back, which, with the ball forward, leaves the hands very much back of the ball. The swing should be upright and compact.

The club head does not dig into the sand in this shot, but is brought down flat back of the ball, slapping the sand. The club head, hitting flat, is unable to dig into the sand and slides along the surface under the ball and pops it up. There will be considerable cut on the ball from the open stance, which is the reason you play to the left of the pin.

Another nubbick shot is from unusually heavy rough and from bad lies, where the sole purpose is to get out and get back on the fairway or on the green, if near enough to it. On this shot take a full swing, hold the club with a tight grip to keep the blade from turning, and hit hard.

Notre Dame, Ind., May 22.—(Special.)—Notre Dame defeated Butler in baseball for the second time this season today by a score of 9 to 3. ARMOUR TECH WINS. Hillsdale, Mich., May 22.—[Special.]—Armour Tech tennis team of Chicago defeated Hillsdale college this afternoon, 5 matches to 2.

Finishes 3 Under Par. Maj. Hazlet finished the sixteen holes in 62, or 3 under 4's, against a strict par of 65. This represents wonderful golf for the championship course has several holes of the trickiest possible character. Dr. Tweddell completed the sixteen holes in 67. The match produced the keenest struggle in the championship so far.

Capt. Lorman Scott of the Royal Montreal club, who was runner up in the Canadian amateur championship six years ago, met defeat from Arnold Read, the veteran member of the Sunningdale club by 6 and 5, while Andrew Jamieson, the Scottish champion, and Col. Moore of Brabazon also were among the victims.

John McHugh of San Francisco meets Sir Ernest Holderness tomorrow in a second round match. The baronet golfer is twice holder of the title, and popular opinion veers toward his victory over McHugh tomorrow. McHugh did not play in the first round as his opponent scratched his entry.

HOLDINGS IN KATY ARE DISPOSED OF BY K.C. SOUTHERN

BY O. A. MATHER.

In preparation for a new plan for a southwestern railroad consolidation, the Kansas City Southern railroad has sold its remaining common stock of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, Chairman L. P. Love of the Kansas City Southern announced yesterday that 237,616 shares of Katy stock had been sold to a New York banking syndicate.

The sale was in accordance with an order of the Interstate Commerce commission, which disapproved of Mr. Love's first plan to make the Kansas City Southern a holding company for uniting the road, the Katy and the St. Louis Southern. The commission's chief objection was that the Kansas City Southern was not the strongest of the three roads and therefore it ordered the holdings to be sold to a New York syndicate.

But Mr. Love's new plan, which now is before the commission, is to make the Missouri-Kansas-Texas road the nucleus of the consolidation and have it acquire the other two roads. So Mr. Love bought the Katy stock from the individual stockholders of the Kansas City Southern will be given the right to own 50-60 of a share of Katy common stock for each share of Kansas City Southern on the basis of $3 a share.

Thus, while the sale of the stock of the plan contemplates that the stock will be retained by the individual stockholders of the Kansas City Southern, however, considerable stock has been sold to a New York syndicate.

The petroleum industry was cheered yesterday by further evidence of the success of curtailment agreements in the west Texas field. Output in this field declined 13,000 barrels a day last week.

For the whole country the daily average gross crude oil production totaled 2,339,000 barrels, a decline of 16,000 barrels a day from the previous week. Stable declines also occurred in the Oklahoma, Kansas, and Wyoming fields, but California production increased 9,100 barrels a day.

Another cheerful item was the earnings statement of the Union Pacific, which showed April net operating income of $1,306,925, an increase of $440,155 over a year ago. Net income for the four months of this year was $4,651,418, an increase of $1,519,418 over the same period last year.

Drop in April Motor Production. Other news of trade and industry was mixed. The department of commerce at Washington reports that April motor vehicle production totaled 499,948 cars and trucks, against 413,731 in March and 494,752 in April, 1927.

New building and engineering contracts last week in 37 states east of the Rocky mountains amounted to $147,423,000, a gain of more than 14,000,000 over the preceding week of the same week of the preceding year. The daily average of contracts let this year to May 18 is $21,638,409 against $20,444,100 for the first five months of 1927.

According to the American Railway association, freight loaded in April in the territory comprising California, Arizona, and Nevada totaled 146,872 cars, a decrease of 12.1 per cent from March and also a decrease of 14.7 per cent from April, last year.

Loading of revenue freight reached the million car mark for the first time this year in the week ending May 12. Loadings were 1,001,983 cars. The American Railway association announced an increase of 22,321 cars over the preceding week, but a decrease of 21,441 cars below the corresponding week in 1927.

LIQUIDATION SENDS STOCKS DOWNWARD IN CHICAGO MARKET

Liquidation induced by a 6 per cent call money rate brought a selling wave into Chicago stock trading yesterday in which declining issues were legion. Losses of from 1 to 4 points ranged throughout the entire list.

The active stocks were led by National Standard, which dropped 4 points to 24. Auburn Automobile sold 2 1/2 to 11 and Zenith Radio was off 3 1/2 to 9 1/2. Morgan Lithograph declined 3 points to 14. Losses of from a point to 2 1/2 were felt by Bastian-Blessing, American Radio, Stewart-Warner, Glenshaw-Burglar, New Drug, Montebello, Borg & Beck, Northwest Engineering, Warner Gear, A. M. Castle, Stand and Dredging, Middle West Utilities, and Marvel Carburetor.

Q. R. S. started upward, but the opposite current was too strong and eased a point on the day. The company is to merge its radio business with the Raytheon Manufacturing company of Cambridge, Mass. It was reported, and rumor had it that Q. R. S. stockholders will receive shares of Raytheon. Production of the Q. R. S. company's picture camera and projector has started and the first shipment is scheduled for today.

Several issues held up well under the general pressure and included in this group were Baxter Laundry, A. C. Davis Industries, Sonatone, Unit Corporation, Gosard, and Pines Waterfront, all of which were only fractionally lower.

On small sales, declines of 1/2 to 4 points were registered by Ross Gear, Public Service, Sangamo Electric, Inland Wire, Kraft-Phenix Cheese, Kalamazoo Stove, Campbell, Wyant & Cannon, Foundry, Minneapolis Honeywell, Regulator, and Quaker Oats.

Losses of a point to nearly 2 points were established by Branch & Sons, Woodruff, Chicago, Chicago Towel, preferred, Art Metal Works, Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee prior lien, American Edition, Monsanto Chemical, American Colortype, Illinois-Brick, Wright, Colman Lamp, Pennsylvania Gas and Electric, Wahl, Bendix, A. Henny Motors, and Yates Machine.

J. L. Kraft, president of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese, returned from New York yesterday and stated that the liquidation of Southern Dairy will undoubtedly add more than $1,000,000 annually to the Kraft net profits. He added that later it is planned to make Southern Dairy stockholders an advantageous exchange offer.

Some Women Prefer a Collar Ad Apollo to Man of Character

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"How much does appearance count in marriage?" is an undecided query. She's of marriageable age, considered pretty among her friends, and is fairly popular. Her hair is a young man of fine character, unusual, she says, in his broad, clean outlook on life, his good, dependable nature, and, best of all, his wholesome respect for women. He has a good chance to be successful. Some day, no doubt, he will be in easy financial circumstances.

"The only thing I do not like about him is his appearance," says Undecided. "I do not mean clothes, because he is well dressed always. What I mean is that he is not good looking. I have liked him more than I have ever liked another man. But I often wonder, if I were married to him, if this one problem would spoil my happiness."

"Please tell me it looks count in marriage? Does it matter what friends think? I am sure a lot of girls are waiting for the same answer. Don't you think I am foolish and shallow? But I'm just wondering if handsomeness counts in the long years of married life."

I think there are women, as there are men, with whom a handsome or a beautiful face counts more than character. For how long it counts I don't know. But for one is the kind whose happiness depends on beauty in a mate, that is the kind he or she should marry.

Shallow and foolish as the query may sound, nevertheless, I know perfectly nice women who simply can't get a man unless he is good looking. And in the female soul there surely lurks a strong urge to parade a fine looking specimen from the way they keep after husbands on matters of clothes and person after marriage. Whether this is due to natural female pride of conquest or to inspire envy among their friends doesn't matter.

Women do like their men all dressed up and looking their best when they have some place to go. It may be simply an offshoot of the maternal urge that crowds rebellious young Junior into that hated Sunday suit.

Character, intelligence, ambition, and dependability should, by all the gods that watch over marriage, be far more important than a collar ad Apollo. The substantial ones going to be appreciated? Personally, I'd recommend substance rather than facial features. I understand that the latter, when they're too meritable, grow a bit monotonous after a time. Character never does.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Almost any one who has nursed a fluffy, puff ball baby chick from the shell to a hot skillet would be convinced after reading many pages of L. M. Hurd's new book on poultry raising that the author knows what he is talking about. After reading this book on "Practical Poultry Farming" the novice feels like going out and tackling the raising of a thousand baby chicks.

There are men who talk just as if they know what they are talking about. Hurd writes that way. Apparently it is simple for him, because he has been right out pecking around with the chickens on his successfully run farm in Massachusetts. All the doubts raised when he is out with the flock are checked carefully by Mr. Hurd as he hobbles with Cornell University's other scientific specialists. He doubts the practical side of these specialists' explanations, the author, who has been an extension man at Cornell for years, takes them to the country and tries them out on the rank and file of poultry keepers.

Mr. Hurd says the book, published by Macmillan company, New York City, is prepared as a practical guide for both large and small poultry keepers. His practical advice, put into approximately 400 pages, are those commonly used by successful poultry keepers and are based on scientific principles.

Whether interested in chickens, pheasants, swans, pigeons, pea fowls, guinea fowls, turkeys, ducks, or geese, Hurd's illustrated book will lead amateur and experienced poultry raisers through to safety.

When you dance with him let your hair be brilliantly lustrous

And your hair an utterly alluring, irresistible part of your charm... because you have found the secret of bringing out all its most dazzling natural radiance... the colorless, faintly scented liquid they call Hennafoam Shampoo. The little touch of henna has worked the miracle of rays. All the soft softness this shampoo gives is permeated with a subtle fragrance. And your natural or permanent wave is more beautifully waved than ever. Use Hennafoam Shampoo before the next dance.

Mrs. Connie F. Becomes Br. W. Clark I. BY THALIA

no one would expect her to be a bride. It is a distinct surprise that she has again become a bride. Her new husband, who formerly was a member of the Chicago Police Department, is a well-known figure in the city. The wedding took place at her home, and was a most intimate affair. The bride and groom were surrounded by their friends and family. The ceremony was performed by a local minister. The reception was held at the bride's home. The bride is a beautiful young woman, and the groom is a well-known figure in the city. The wedding was a most successful one, and the bride and groom are now happily married.

The South Shore Country Club committee has announced that the 19th annual horse show will be held on June 12, 13, 14, and 15. The show will be held at the club's new track, and will feature a variety of horse races and events. The committee hopes that the show will be a great success, and that it will attract a large number of spectators. The show will be held at the South Shore Country Club, which is located in the South Shore area of Chicago. The club is a well-known and popular destination for horse lovers, and the show is expected to be a major event for the area.

Invitations were received for the wedding of Miss Helen Jenkins, daughter of Edgemoor, and Mr. Charles E. Merrill, Jr., of the Chicago Police Department. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, and was a most intimate affair. The bride and groom were surrounded by their friends and family. The ceremony was performed by a local minister. The reception was held at the bride's home. The bride is a beautiful young woman, and the groom is a well-known figure in the city. The wedding was a most successful one, and the bride and groom are now happily married.

It's a Bit Unfair to Expect Them to Attain Perfection

By Gladys Huntington

Do you ever notice the meanness, the love of scandal, the enviousness, the cruelty, the evil-mindedness, the deceitfulness of your associates—or yourself?

Jim Smith is a wonderful friend—but he's so sharp in a deal that it sometimes crosses the line into dishonesty. Bill Jones is a devoted father—but he's not a faithful husband. Josephine Brown dotes on her home and her family—but she dotes on her family.

Examine your own self—or your thoughts and motives sometime. Aren't we most of us pretty decent people but with a dash of evil in us—being well in a very general sense, aren't we all a mixture of good and bad, with the good predominating?

Tet we can't help being terribly hurt when we find our children aren't perfect. If any one should ask us we'd say, "Of course I don't expect my children to be perfect." But I think in a way we really do—at least as far as any serious things are concerned. But why should we?

They are our children—and they are weak. They are people, too. They are subjected to all sorts of influences from other children, from the world, all the people of their world. And if these influences are unfavorable, who are we to expect them to remain untouched?

I suppose we're all alike in that respect. This precious life we've brought into the world, this lovely baby of ours—why, it must be perfect, and when it falls short of perfection it hurts us.

But whether it hurts or not we must rise to the occasion—be patient, remembering that human nature is full of error. We must be slow to discourage, slow to blame—patient, patient, patient.

Great men—think of some saints—think of some, or people close to us whom we love and admire—all have their serious failings and their less worthy deeds. Why not the children? Let us love and understand them as they are and do our best to help them.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Chuck Pot Roast.

One of the ways to decide whether a piece of meat has been pot roasted to some perfection is to note the aroma of the gravy. If you arrive at the conclusion that this was a good test by trying out a pot roasted heel of the round on the butcher who sold me the meat. He thought it smelled just like beefsteak, and I thought that proved that it was satisfactory, but because he was an old fashioned butcher, and loved his work, he could not help dwelling over and over on the fine quality of the piece he had sold me. And that was rather important, too.

A pound of compact chuck is a good piece of meat to use for a pot roast if your butcher has anything to do with the preparation of beef—as some butchers do not, seemingly, they serve four people and you can cook it so that it will have the beefsteak aroma.

Clean up the meat and make it as compact as possible, bring the ends of the cut together and hold them together with small steel skewers.

Have on a plate a heaping teaspoon of flour mixed with a teaspoon of salt and an eighth of a teaspoon of freshly ground pepper. Rub the meat all over with this and then seal it for two minutes per side in hot fat—the fat from a little tried out suet and from a slice of salt pork is good. Remember that in the end the gravy which shall smell like beefsteak will consist of this fat, the flour deliciously browned in the slow cooking, and the juices of the meat besides flavors, perhaps, from vegetables used for seasonings. Their juices rather than any water at all is what will make it fine.

After the meat is sealed in the kettle, take it up on the plate on which was the flour, and put in the kettle three fine cut onions and stew them gently, then add two carrots sliced and softened by boiling water over, some celery leaves or celery, etc. Put the meat on the vegetables, rise off the plate with a tablespoon of water and add, cover, and cook slowly, basting often, for one hour.

It is easier to learn to cook a pot roast if the vegetables are used and not spoiled, but it will not be as much like beefsteak as without them.

Antoinette Gives Tips on the Proper Makeup for the Eyes

Putting that dash of shadow on the eyelids is the supreme test of the makeup hand. Some women have it. Some of them know exactly the depth, strength, and color to set off the beauty of the eyes. And some do not. Some do not understand that daylight and electric light call for different degrees of shading. And that's where most eye makeup that is wrong goes wrong.

All eyes may be shadowed to good effect, says a noted authority. But only the slightest tinge should be used during the daytime by blondes or by women whose eyes, instead of being deep set, lie nearly flush with the cheek.

This latter point is worth stressing. Many women plaster shadow on the eye without ever stopping to think of the depth or shallowness of the eye position itself.

It's a pretty good rule and one observed by our cleverest makeup artists that everybody must be restrained in the use of eye shadow during daylight hours.

Eye makeup consists of two operations. First, blackening is delicately applied with a damp brush to the lashes. The lashes are then curled upward with the small brush. They're dotted slightly heavier on the tips—but not beaded, understand. There's a difference.

The shadows are made by a dry powder rubbed on the lids. Some women use a bit of cotton for this latter operation, but ordinarily the small finger tip is the easiest and the "trickiest" aid. With it you are least apt to smudge the lid heavily. Just a touch at a time on the finger tip is best, renewing, if necessary.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

H. J.: THE REGULAR COULD bath in the morning is not sufficient to keep the skin clean and healthy. Twice a week, or preferably three times, a hot bath should be taken. It is well to take the hot bath before going to bed, and it should be followed up with a shower or pouring cold water over the shoulders. Then a brisk rub and to bed.

ETTA M.: THERE SHOULD BE a certain amount of oil in the hair to keep it in good condition and give it a glossy appearance. Unless your hair is too oily, do not use anything on it as dry hair is unmanageable and unhealthy. Shampoo the hair every two weeks. Shampooing instructions may be had for a stamped addressed envelope.
